Quality of Life

Washington Parish is one of the most scenic rural parishes in the state with piney woods, rolling hills, rivers, streams and farms. Good food, festivals, local heritage, and the largest free fair in the nation are just some of the offerings that make Washington Parish a great place to retire.

Ideally located, Washington Parish is within a twenty minute drive to I-12, I-55 and I-59.

Recreation - Planning for the Future

Officials in Washington Parish are currently working on two great recreation plans – the Bogue Chitto State Park and the Washington Parish Reservoir.

The Bogue Chitto State Park will feature a number of outdoor activities including fishing, canoeing, nature walks and much more.

The Washington parish Reservoir is a truly ambitious project, which will serve the retirement community for years to come.

The reservoir will feature a 700-acre man-made lake.

A planned retirement community with a wide range of housing options will surround the lake.

The Bogue Chitto State Park and the Washington Parish Reservoir will certainly make Washington Parish a retirement paradise.
